Humanising the Future

Australian Academy of the Humanities 50th Annual Symposium

13–15 November 2019
The Edge / State Library of Queensland / Brisbane

What future is there for the past?

How do we ensure new technologies enhance human flourishing, including for the future of work?

How do we create liveable cities through civic cultures?

What are the prospects for the human and the post-human in the Anthropocene?

Visit our website for the program and the remarkable line-up of experts that will consider these questions and more.
